Course Name

Seasonal Delivery Specialist e-learning

Course Description

This e-learning package gives a basic introduction to the weather systems commonly experienced in the UK, their impact on the railway, and measures taken to mitigate against their effects. The e-learning forms part of a package of initial training for Seasonal Delivery Specialists.

Audience

This e-learning package is designed for all those who need an awareness of how the weather impacts on the operation of the railway. It is primarily aimed at Seasonal Delivery Specialists, but is also relevant for Mobile Operations Managers and Controllers. It is available for anyone else who would benefit from an understanding of the information.
